The Great
Pyramids of Giza stood tall and proud. I can feel the heat beating down on my back and a hot breeze kissing my cheeks.
I am the great explorer, Misha Lyric, here to uncover the mystery of these historical buildings.

In a far away world,
there's another species. One so unbelievable and with far more intellect than humans.
Today, man takes the first step towards that world by sending the great mind, Misha Lyric, into the farthest outreaches of space. Upon breaking earth's atmosphere, she sees it...
A giant flying saucer!

The great explorer and mind, Misha Lyric
was halted from exploration.
A dead click echoed loud
from the gift she'd received on her sixth birthday.

Mom, the viewmasters out!

Her footsteps were loud on the stairs,
like a explorer running through the an abandoned pyramid
from long dead mummies.

Then she leaped from the last step in her mind she floated in air, as if there was no gravity.

Then she landed
and hurried to the kitchen where
Her mother cooked dinner
She held out her camera
for her mother to fix.

Help!

She begged her mother to fix it.
There was so much to do!
Her journey wasn't yet over.
Misha Lyric had to get back out there.
Prepictured adventures couldn't be left to simmer.
